

AUDITIONS - A Sherlock Carol

MCP Christmas Readers Theatre production

Auditions - October 28, 6:30 in the MCP Loft

Performances - December 5, 6, 7, 8

Directed by Nancy Ballantyne, Josiah Austin and Elisa McKee

Name _____

Phone _____

Email _____

Please bring this form and your calendar for October to December 8th.

Cast: 6 Victorian carolers

Sherlock Holmes and Ebenezer Scrooge

Two Actors and two Actresses who EACH have four characters

(See attached sheet with characters)

Crew: We can also use various production helpers.

A Sherlock Carol combines characters from the Sherlock Holmes mysteries and Charles Dicken's A Christmas Carol. It's Christmas Eve and Sherlock Holmes returns to London. Moriarity is dead and so is the detective's confidence. There are ghosts, spirits, as Scrooge prefers to call them. There seems to be a murder, a theft and a missing will. Holmes doesn't think he can solve anything, until Scrooge shows him the "spirits" of the past present and future. Then "the game is afoot" and everything comes out right on Christmas morning.

The Carolers will welcome our audiences and be singing on stage to help move our story from one scene to the next.

Readers Theatre tells a story through vocal interpretation. You can see there will be many possible voices to create the characters. We'll have fun playing with the possibilities.

If you have questions, please feel free to Nancy Ballantyne at nancybgm3@gmail.com or 970-249-1346